Reapportionment at Home

With all the furore being raised about reapportionment, the Appleton Chamber of Commerce has asked a loaded question when it inquires about the equities of representation on county boards particuarly in urban counties like Outagamie or Winnebago.

In a letter to Appleton members of the Outagamie Board of Supervisors. Chamber Secretary Corbett points out that the town of Liberty with 494 people has the same representation on the county board as the town of Grand Chute with a population of

He also points out that while the City of Appleton has only 36 per cent of the supervisors on the Board, it pays 51.5% of the property taxes, 64% of the utility taxes and 64% of the income taxes collected in the Cities, of course have some recourse in this situation under present state law. They can increase the number of wards and thereby elect more county board members. Villages can elect fourth class city status and subdivide into wards.

This solution has been suggested recen'ly in Green Bay and Madison, but it is far from a complete answer to the prob-

The plain fact is that the Wisconsin system of county government at least as it applies to largely urbanized counties, is outmoded. But the county board and town Jobbies in Madison are strong, and any complete revamping of the county system will be years coming

There is an interim approach which is worth an effort, however Milwaukee County has won special consideration from the legislature for its particular problems. including authority for a county executive

If all of the eight other counties in the state which have over 100,000 population could reach mutual agreement on changes in state law which they felt would be beneficial, a concerted effort in Madison might succeed. This should include the whole question of representation on the county board and the matter of a county executive

32nd Earns, Deserves Praise

When the 32nd Division returns home within the next few weeks from its active training period of almost a year at Fort Lewis. Wash, it will have marked up another in a long series of accomplishments for which the famed Red Arrow has been known from the fields of France to the far reaches of the South Pacific. Not the least of these accomplishments during the Fort Lewis training has been the impression which men of the division have left on residents of the State of Washington.

Early this year, the fact that the 32nd not only has a fine military service record but is composed of men who have the qualities which make positive contributions to an area in non-military activities was noted by Chief Roy A. Betlach of the Washington State Patrol. At that time; he said. "There never has been a more orderly and fine group of servicemen and their families to come to the Northwest. These people are of good character; and although they did not personally choose to come out here. they have certainly conducted themselves in a most excellent manner.

Now comes a salute to the division in a similar vein as the some 9.700 men from 72 Wisconsin communities plus the families of about 3.500 look forward to returning to their home cities to renew the civilian pursuits which were interrupted so abruptly when hostilities over Berlin became a very real threat a year ago. It was not easy for the men of the 32nd to leave their jobs and their homes nor was it easy for their families. But, as they have done over a period extending back to World War I. the men of the 32nd, and their families. rose magnificently to the occasion and, despite some early problems of short supplies and storms brewed by some politicians about the callup, they have added another bright chapter to the division's his-

We are happy the men and their families are coming back. They have done the job they were called upon to do: now they can return to their places in Wisconsin life to which they contributed before they left and will, we're certain, continue to contribute after their return.

The measure of their success while in Washington both in the military and civilian life of the Olympia-Tacoma area is best told in the words of a "Salute to the 32nd" published by the Daily Olympian newspaper. The paper said:

"Their success can be measured by this fact. On Feb. 15, the 32nd was named as a component of the Strategic Army Corps (This means that the division is considered ready for swift use in any trouble spot in

"We congratulate the 32nd Division or its accomplishments. On being of Of pripraiss, we also take this opportunity to tell the transplanted Wisconsin residents it was a pleasure to have them as neighbors. We hope that as citilians they will return

To members of the 32nd and their familes, such words of praise and regard must surely help them to forget any travail which may have been caused by the active service period. We are sure that the accolade by the Olympian was deserved by the 32nd. In the same vein, all Wisconsin residents can take a vicatious pride in the imprint the men and their families left on Washington and, when they return home, give them a rousing welcome for a job well

The Railroad Featherbedding Dispute

The National Mediation Board has admitted failure in its effort to settle the work rules dispute between the nation's railroads and the rail employees. The way is now clear for the railroads to put into effect rules changes which, when adopted, will eliminate from the rail payroll thousands of locomotive firemen. In addition there will be an overhaul of the pay and semiority systems for trained crews.

Five unions have indicated they will strike if such changes are made.

Thus the situation is right back where it was last February when a study commission appointed by the president to investigate the rail dispute made its report and recommendations. At that time the board found that featherhedding did exist. It recommended that certain changes be made to eliminate such featherbedding even when it required the reduction in the number of employees on the radroad pasrells. But not all of the recommendations were in the interests of the carriers. Care-of the conditions which had been complained of by the railway workers.

But the recommendations were not accepted by the employees. There were immediate talks of strike to enforce their will The result was the efforts of the National Mediation Board which have now come to nought. Board Secretary Eugene C. Thompson points out that the board's recommendation to arbitrate the dispute was accepted by the railroads but turned down by the labor organizations. The original commission which brought in its recommendations last February was composed of five public, five union and five management representatives. Since this board made its recommendations the National Mediation Board has been conducting hearings and now its pro-

The person who works in a newspaper office, or in an allied husiness, is perhaps expesed more directly to the proof of ma cumbency advantage than most others. There is the eternal pile of franked mail, for example, dispatched during campaign seasons at a frenetic pace. During a recent visit in Washington, one of the veterans of politics in the national capital observed privately that a member of Congress who mends his fences and uses the perquisites of his congressional office to the limit should never worry about being beaten except as his party, without regard to its individual representatives, goes down in the battle.

Scarcely anybody thinks of inviting the man who is running against him and who would be ever so grateful for the chance to offer a rebuttal, or an exposition of his own viewpoints and reasons for making

Several of the principal candidates of the Democratic party in this year's elections now hold state office. It is reasonably safe to say that if they did not hold office, with the advantages appertaining, they would not be seriously regarded as contenders for the higher places they are seeking. John Reynolds as a private lawyer, aspiring to the governorship, would find it infinitely more difficult to make a lasting impression upon the public. John Reynolds as attorney general gets into the news dispatches daily, as the chief legal officer of the state.

OTHER ASSETS

The gain in incumbency can be measured in other tangible ways. There is the matter of travel expense accounts. Who is to say that a state officer who travels to Milwaukee is on state business primarily, or vote- getting business primarily? There is a legend in statehouse politics about a high ranking official many years ago whose travel vouchers consistently showed trips to his home town on several weekends each month. When he was asked about it he blandly explained that he had a special investigation underway that required periodical consultation. with the local officials there. The

WASHINGTON - The 'Soviet News Bulletin which is publish. ed in each country by the Soviet embassies and fraations has now made public Various roplies received to a questionn a i r e sent out by the Moscow 'Titer aiv Gazette 'in which this ques tion was asked

Do you be lieve that general disarmament is possible now or in the nearest

This writer received a request for his views on this question and aumailed a reply May 15 which now has been published together with a comment by the Soviets Inder the heading, 'I don't see any chance — David Lawrence American publicist 1 it was quot ed in full

Replying to your request for my opinion as to whether disarmament 'is possible now or in the near future. I regret to say that I do not think it is I say this because to achieve any international agreement it is necessary to have good faith on both sides Unfortunately the record of the Soviet government in breaking agreements repeatedly makes many people in the United States feel that a disarmament agree ment would not be worth the pa per on which it is written

Difficult to Accept "We in America also find it difficult to accept the word of a government which doesn't believe in God and which in our judg ment doesn't believe in morality Disarmament will be achieved only when there is good faith, and this cannot happen until there is a decided change in the attitude of the Communist government toward its pledges and written words. We believe that if the people of the Soviet Union had a free government and elected their officials in free elections progress could be made toward the establishment of good faith and mutual trust

Editors of the 'Literary Ga zette" headed their comment 'Thanks for your frankness Mr. Lawrence " Here is the verbatim excerpt as distributed by the Soviet News Bulletin

Deserves Attention

'The answer of David Lawrence an opponent of disarmament deserves the attention of broad sections of readers even though it is permeated with fierce malice against our country Indeed it is the frankest state ment of the position of U.S. in fluential circles. They are against disarmament. They are for the preservation of international tension and the armaments race which not only bring tremendous profits to the United States monopolies but help them to enslave the underdeveloped counties in Latin America Asia Europe .

*Rejecting the idea of general disarmament. Mr. Lawrence advances conditions on which he and his masters would agree to be more lenient. There are two conditions in the main, we Societ people must believe in God and replace the existing system in our country by a system similar to the American allegedly 'demo cratic and free "But belief in God did not prevert the U.S. government from violating the agreements it solemnly signed in Potsdam on the demilitarization and democratization of Germany from arming the West Ge man recanenist militarists despite these agreements. # Outagamie Airport Picked For Honors

Exceeds Traffic Quota for Third Consecutive Month

The Outagamie County airport moved into a special circle in June when the North Central Airlines named it a member of the 'Quota Buster Club," one of two ports so named in its system.

The port was named the airline's "station of the month" in June when it exceeded its quotal by 22.6 per cent. June was the third consecutive month the port exceeded its previous quota. An: airport in Watertown, S.D. is the other member of the "Quotai Buster Club.

Passenger and cargo traffic also increased over last year at Green Bay and Oshkosh airports. Appleton's record was made by

1,055 passengers and 19,998 pounds of air express and air freight. At Green Bay's Austin Straubel

Field there were 6,191 passengers, 42,010 pounds of air express and 49.216 pounds of air freight on June North Central flights. The Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh handled 4,981 passengers, 20.633 pounds of air express and 48,872 pounds of air freight.

Of the 1,055 Appleton passengers, $64 originated flights here and 501 terminated flights. There were 8,708 pounds of air express, 4,504 originating and 4,205 terminating. Air freight amounted to 11.200 pounds, 6,614 originating and 4,675 terminating. Air Mail

Air mail totaled 2,301 pounds at Appleton during the month. Of that, 1,280 pounds left the city and 1,021 pounds flew in. Appleton far exceeded its passenger quota of 460, with 564 passengers. There was only one flight that didn't land as scheduled due to bad weather. Green Bay's 6,191 passengers were divided between 3.034 orig-; inating and 3,157 terminating. Oshkosh had 2,471 boardings and 2,510 arrivals. Express Business

Green Bay's air express business was divided between 22,880 pounds outgoing and 18,130 incoming. Its air freight husiness was made up of 32,351 shipped from Green Bay and 16,861 received there. Air mail totaled 18,504 pounds 6 709 originating and 11.-795 terminating. In Oshkosh, 11,110 pounds of air express went out and 9,523 pounds came in. A total of 28,561 pounds of air freight went out and 20,311; pounds came in. Air mail amounted to 27,944 pounds, 19,125 leaving and 8,819 departing.

The Oshkosh figures were well above those of last year in both passenger and cargo categories. It was the first time Green Bay! had handled over $,000 passengers since October, 1961.

Judges for the First annual Outagamie County Dairy Dessert Contest are from the left, Mrs. Arthur Lathrop, Miss Mary O'Leary and Mrs. Karl Sager, all of Appleton. Miss O'Leary is head of the home arts department at Appleton High School and the other two, also home economists, are homemakers. Here the three look over the finished dishes of the four finalists. The contest was a joint effort of the American Dairy Association and county extension services with Miss Mary-Beth Kuester, home economist of the Wisconsin Michigan Power, Co., and Miss Kathleen Walsh, Outagamie County Home Agent, in charge.

The Two Junior contestants. Sally Tubbs. 11, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tubbs, Seymour, and Cheryl Mueller, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mueller, Seymour, held their own remarkably well against their seniors in the cook-off. Sally, a seventh grader and member of the Woodland Hustlers 4-H Club, won third place with her Lemon

Cream Rice Dessert. She has been cooking since she was 8 and is the daily salad creator for her family's meals. Cheryl rated fourth in the contest with a pretty dessert. Strawberry-Cheese Parfait. A high school sophomore. Cheryl is active in the Seymour 4-H Club, working primarily in the field of food and nutrition. She gave food demonstrations at the county fair.

Mrs. Johnson to Compete Aug. 1 In District Event

BY LILLIAN MACKESY Post-Crescent Food Editor

With little fanfare and no formal audience, an important cooking event took place last week in the gleaming home economics room at Madison Junior High School.

Four preliminary winners . . . two adults and two young people . . . in Outagamie County's first annual Dairy Dessert Contest were busily engaged in mixing and measuring, baking or refrigerating their prize recipes. Watching them as they prepared their dishes were three expert judges, all with home economics degrees. They were waiting to test, taste and rate the finished products in order to pick an all-county winner who will compete next Wednesday afternoon in the televised district contest over WBAY-TV in Green Bay.

Mrs. H. D. Johnson, 210 E. Byrd St., Appleton, finally was judged the winner for her attractive Cherry Cream Torte with its delicious almond crust. This recipe long has been a favorite for Mrs. Johnson, especially for company meals. It seems to be one everyone likes, since Mrs. Johnson said she has copied its ingredients countless times for guests who have eaten it for the first time in her home.

 Mrs. Johnson will be representing Outagamie County when she prepares her prize-winning dessert again in competition with seven other county winners from northeastern Wisconsin. The program can be viewed from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Aug. 1 on Channel 2. The other three dessert recipes should not be overlooked by homemakers because they all were winners, having been chosen for this final cook-off from a field of more than 75 entries. The judges admitted to having a difficult time picking a single winner.

The unusual, generously fruited Bakeless Cheese Cake made by Mrs. Matthew Diedrich, route 1, Kaukauna, placed second in the county contest.

Junior preliminary winners Sally Tubbs, 11, and Cheryl Mueller, 15, both of Seymour, placed third and fourth respectively. It Spring Rite is hoped that next year a junior as well as a senior cooking divi cuts a square of her Cherry Cream Torte with its almond and wafer crust. Mrs. Johnson will represent Outagamie County in the district contest next Wednesday at Green Bay when she competes with winners from seven other counties in northeastern Wisconsin in a televised cook-off between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. on WBAY-TV.

Mrs. Mathew Diedrich, route 1, Kaukauna, is about to sprinkle the nut and graham cracker topping on her Fruited Cheese Cake that takes no baking. The cake part of the recipe combines creamy cottage cheese with sieved apricots, crushed pineapple, orange gelatin and whipped cream. After the topping is on, the cake is decorated with whole strawberries or apricots to dress it up to match its wonderful taste. The cheese cake won second place for the rural Kaukauna homemaker. Stated Salaries, Like Icebergs, Don't Tell What's Beneath Surface

BY WORTH BINGHAM Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON - The cost of maintaining an individual senator or representative is one of the best kept secrets in Washington. There are a lot of facts available, but they are like icebergs. They don't tell what's beneath the surface.

A lawmaker's own income is a case in point. On the face of it, he earns $22,500 a year. But that's not all of it. If you count the compensation a congressman or a senator gets in the form of expense allow mores, the total comes to well over $40,000 a year.
